The first part of this study (the translation Sanskrit-Spanish) was dedicated in gratitude to Oscar Pujol and his precious teachings of Sanskrit's Introduction (2003-2006), so as to his unusual and practical Dictionary Sànskrit-Català (2005), also to Jorge Pardo and Arcadio Rojo, study group that we created between March 2006 and February 2010; without all this I would not have dared to continue studying this ancestral language, ocean of unattainable horizon and depth.

To Jaideva Singh for the book Pratyabhijñāhṛdayam. The Secret of Self-Recognition, his English translation and his meanings' explanations related to Trika Philosophy. Likewise, this first study was dedicated in gratitude to all people that have made and make possible that the essence of the knowledge of Kashmir Śaivism go on beating.

This second part, the translation from Spanish to English, was an experiment for us. We wanted to see how the content is understood coming from Sanskrit-Spanish languages, not from Sanskrit-English as usually we have. We apologize the possible fundamental errors or lack of comprehension, we welcome any constructive critic and corrections.

Glory to Śiva, inexhaustible source of beingness.
